Torrance Rotary was chartered as Club No. 1847 in Rotary International, on November 6, 1924. First meetings were held in a store room at 1341 El Prado as the membership grew, the meeting place was changed to the former American Legion clubhouse on Carson street, until this building was badly damaged by the 1933 earthquake. Since then, the club has been meeting at the Woppan's Clubhouse on Engracia avenue.

QUEEN-DATES . . . El Camino College students will find it hard to choose their Grid Queen from among these nine lovely coeds. The girl with the greatest number of votes will be crowned at the Pierce J. C. football game Saturday night in Sentinel Field, Inglewood. Second and third place winners will serve as attendants to the queen. Aspirants to the crown are, left to right, Anne Conlin, Los Angeles; Meredith Bentzinger, Hawthorne; Nancy Royce, Hermosa; Sally Kesterson, Los Angeles; Marianne Gilmore, Redondo Beach; Donna Bencke, Hermosa; Barbara Truesdale, Redondo Beach; Beverly Rohnow, El Segundo, and Betty Masdeo, Inglewood.

OBITUARY

MRS. ANNA E. HUDSON

Mrs. Anna E. Hudson, 56, who with her family lived in Torrance for 25 years, passed away Tuesday morning in her North Redondo home, 2426 Marshallfield Lane, where she had moved about two years ago. She was a native of New Mexico. Services have been set for 11 a.m. Friday morning at McMillan Funeral Chapel in Gardena; Rev. John Neal of Los Angeles will officiate. Surviving the deceased are the husband, Boyd Hudson; a daughter, Mrs. Irma Whitehouse of Redondo; a grandson, Tracy Bennett; a brother, John A. Wardwell and a niece, Elenor Sweder, of Lawndale.

Motorcycle, Cab Crash; 22-Year Old Cyclist Dies

Ray G. Joslin, 22, of 2631 So. Vermont avenue, died in General Hospital of injuries received when his motorcycle crashed into a taxi cab at 190th street and Vermont avenue, near Torrance, police reported this week.
The force of the collision hurled Joslin's body 75 feet and caused the automobile to roll over twice. The cab driver, Harold A. Miller, 30, of 15735 South La Salle avenue, Gardena, was treated for lacerations and head injuries at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital.

A School A Day Is State's Need, Teachers Claim

California's need for more schools was pointed out this week by Dr. J. H. Hull, superintendent of Torrance schools who reported on a recent finding of the California Teachers Association.
"To meet the need for more classrooms, 42,600 all together, California must open five new 500-pupil schools each Monday morning, summer and winter, for the next ten years."
". . . or one new school every day for ten years."

Movies on Docket

State Welfare Agency Moves To New Office

Tuesday was moving day for the Torrance sub-office of the State Department of Public Welfare.
The task of moving the state agency and its staff of 16 from the county offices at 2300 Carson street to the new modern concrete brick building at 1603 Craven's avenue was accomplished without a hitch, according to Logan Poche, manager of the local office.
The agency is maintained by California to administer the affairs of the aged and blind. The jurisdiction of the office includes the physical boundaries of Torrance, Redondo Beach, North Redondo, and Gardena.
The unusual appearing building, built almost entirely without windows, was constructed by Hans St. John, contractor. The building is air conditioned and dependent entirely upon fluorescent lamps for lighting.
